Fig. 1: Annual incidence and mortality rates (per 100,000 women) of invasive cervical cancer in Canada, the United States and cancer surveillance regions of the World Health Organization. Rates are standardized according to age distribution of world population in 1960. Source: Ferlay et al.³

[Return to text]