Fig. 4: Etiological model of human papillomavirus (HPV) infection and cervical cancer, illustrating probable role of remote behavioural risk factors for persistent infection and of coexisting factors that mediate lesion progression.