Bibliographie des statistiques des bibliothèques canadiennes

Bibliothèque et Archives Canada
Janvier 2007

Introduction

Cette bibliographie bilingue renferme la liste complète des sources de données statistiques sur les bibliothèques canadiennes. Elle fait partie du Programme national de statistiques de base des bibliothèques (www.collectionscanada.gc.ca/8/3/r3-203-f.html).

Elle donne la liste des ressources qui peuvent être consultées pour répondre à des questions telles que :

- Combien de bibliothèques y a-t-il au Canada?
- Quelles sont les tendances passées qui ont marqué le développement des différents types de bibliothèques et de services de bibliothèques au Canada?

En indiquant les rôles et l'incidence des bibliothèques canadiennes, cette bibliographie permet également de montrer la contribution des bibliothèques à la société et de les situer au cœur de la structure culturelle canadienne.

Objet

La Bibliographie des statistiques des bibliothèques canadiennes constituera le point de départ de la recherche sur les bibliothèques canadiennes. Elle est destinée aux bibliothèques cherchant des renseignements aux fins de comparaison et de financement, aux organismes gouvernementaux et autres organisations culturelles, aux éditeurs et secteurs connexes, ainsi qu'aux autres parties concernées, comme les journalistes, les chercheurs, les organisations internationales et les membres du public.

Critères d'inclusion

La ressource doit :

- Traiter des bibliothèques canadiennes
- Se présenter sous forme de statistiques, ou du moins être reproductible et comparable
- Produire des statistiques originales ou concerner un volet ou un aspect original des statistiques auxquelles elle se rapporte
- Porter sur des aspects que la bibliothèque partage avec d'autres bibliothèques (comme la taille des collections ou le financement)
- Se rapporter au rôle joué par la bibliothèque dans sa collectivité (par opposition aux renseignements conservés par la bibliothèque à des fins propres)
- Être physiquement accessible par le public
- Être produite par une source (auteur ou organisme émetteur) faisant autorité et crédible
- Respecter les normes de la recherche universitaire et les méthodes statistiques acceptées

Critères d'exclusion

- Travaux d'ordre général sur les statistiques, manuels d'utilisation ou de mauvaise utilisation des statistiques, renseignements sur les programmes ou les outils d'aide à la collecte, à la manipulation et à l'analyse des statistiques
- Plans stratégiques ou rapports annuels destinés à des institutions ou à des collectivités particulières
- Annuaires
- Lignes directrices et normes
- Renseignements pertinents uniquement pour les membres de la communauté des bibliothèques
- Renseignements sur les bibliothécaires
- Renseignements sur les utilisateurs (par exemple, documents sur le comportement relatif à la recherche d'information, groupes d'utilisateurs, programmes pour les utilisateurs, etc.)
- Rapports sur des sujets périphériques tels que l'alphabétisation, l'utilisation d'Internet ou les habitudes de lecture, qui ne font que mentionner le rôle des bibliothèques
- Études de cas ou profils

Organisation des entrées

Les entrées sont classées dans l'ordre alphabétique (par auteur ou organisme émetteur) et citées selon les conventions établies dans la quinzième édition du Chicago Manual of Style. Les citations sont faites dans la langue de la ressource. Lorsque la ressource a été publiée en anglais et en français, la citation est donnée dans ces deux langues.

Les entrées sont ensuite organisées sur le site Web (www.collectionscanada.ca/8/3/r3-700-f.html) dans les listes spécialisées selon la catégorie de bibliothèque à laquelle elles se rapportent : spécialisée, scolaire, universitaire ou publique.
